- (b) that each application needs to include details of architectural work performed by the applicant over the last three years;
- (c) that architectural work details need to indicate what work had been performed in Australia during that period;
- (d) that the architectural work details need to take the form at least of a curriculum vitae and that the description would need to be sufficiently detailed to enable the Board to identify the type and nature of the work done by the applicant personally not merely show their position in relation to a project;
- (e) that each applicant needs to provide the names and telephone (or other) contact details of two referees, at least one of whom should be a registered architect, who can verify the nature and extent of the work claimed to have been performed by the applicant.
- (f) that the applicant needs to advise the extent, if any, to which the applicant has satisfied the Board's continuing registration requirements in respect to undertaking Continuing Professional Development (CPD).
- (g) that the applicant may be required to attend a registration interview, the costs of which are to be borne by the applicant.
